AMISH BOYISH clothes

After working as a communication director at Le Palais de Tokyo and Colette store... after creating the Brunch Bazar melting pot rendez-vous, Nadege Winter is actually busy with a new project. She dedicates herself to Amish Boyish clothes label, in co-creation with Diane de Sérigny. Last week at OFR gallery, many friends were invited to the launch. Original samples, all reversibles were presented. A special attention has been paid to the manufacturing and details and Amish Boyish will be soon found at Colette's in Paris.
